Secretary Blaine seems to have achieved another diplomatic success in arranging with British Minister Pauncefort a new extradition treaty. If it is duly ratified it will break up the Canadian refuge of American boodlers and the reciprocal pollution of American soil by Canadian boodlers. The State Grand Army.

The veterans of this part of the state were handsomly remembered in the election of officers at the Grand Army gathering at Rutland last week. The result of the election of officers of the G. A. R. was as follows: Department Commander, Col. Z. M Mansur of Island Pond; senior vice-commander, J. E. Eldridge of Warren; junior vice-commander. J. W. Williams of Bennington. The other officers are appointed by the commander. Of the W. R. C. these officers were elected: Department president, Mrs. Janet P. Blackmer, Manchester; senior vice president, Mrs. Charlotte Thompson, St. Johnsbury; junior vice-president, Mrs. E. M. Seaver, Montpelier; chaplain, Mrs. Martha F. Stearns, Bradford. Delegates-at-large to the National convention, Mrs. E. J. Ormsbee, Brandon; Mrs. Hugh Henry, Ches ter: Mrs. C. R. Jones, Bradford; Mrs. Mary M. Perry, Bellows Falls. Alternates: Mrs. Ellen M. Seaver, Montpelier; Mrs. Harvey, St. Johnsbury; Mrs. A. B. Valentine, Benton; Mrs. Sargent, South Royalton; Mrs. LaPoint, Barre.

Observations on La Grippe.

La grippe is a specific disease, probably of a miasmatic origin. Opinion is divided whether it spreads by contagion, or is propagated by atmospheric influence. It seems easier, however, to find an explanation of its rapid transit and almost universal prevalence in the latter. It is a well known fact that measles, scarlet fever and other diseases whose contagious nature is well determined, spread very slowly as compared with la grippe.

It is generally characterized by slight soreness of the throat, as an initial symptom, together with suffusion of the eyes and nose. At last the supreme court of Montana has rendered a decission in the Thompson mandamus case, which virtually dec'ares that the republican assembly of the state is the legal Thompson is one of the republican assemblymen from Silver Bow county who were declared elected by the throwing out of the fraudulent vote of the Homestake Tunnel Precinct. In order to make a test case he brought suit for his mileage and per diem expenses. His counsel asked for a peremptory writ of mandamus ordering the state auditor to pay him. To decide whether he is entitled to the money, the court was obliged to pass judgment on the legality of his election. It finds what the republicans have claimed all along, that the only prima facie evidence of membership in the legislature is the certificate of the State Canvassing Board. This Thompson and his republican colleagues from Silver Bow county hold, and, consequently, the writ is granted.

This decision practically settles the case. The republican legislature is the only legal legislature of Montana and Col. Sanders and Mr. Power are entitled to seats in the United States
